

ILLUSTRATED
Evening Ledger

MONDAY
 January 3, 1916

THE WORLD'S KALEIDOSCOPE OF EVER-CHANGING EVENTS AS RECORDED BY THE CAMERA

3535.
 Photo by International Film Service.
THE CZAR AND HIS CHILDREN POSE FOR A NEW PICTURE
 This photograph was taken on a recent outing. It shows, left to right, an officer, the Czar, the Grand Duchesses Tatiana, Olga, Marie, Anastasia and the Czarevitch. The young men are sons of the Czar's eldest sister.

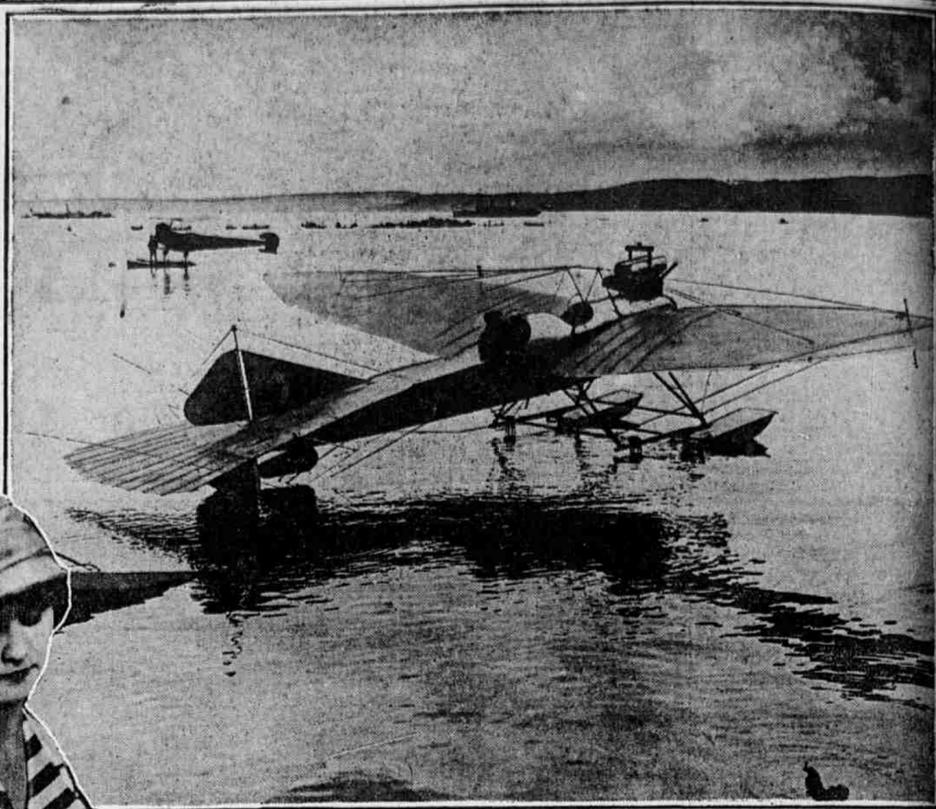

Photo by Medem.
GERMANY MAINTAINS CONSTANT AIR PATROL OVER THE BALTIC
 To guard against sudden raids by enemy warships, the Kaiser's airmen keep a vigilant watch over the waters that lave the Fatherland's shores. The picture shows a "Taube" starting out on an early morning trip.

Photo by Medem.
WHEN GREEK MEETS FRENCH AT SALONICA
 A group of the sturdy soldiers of the Republic, who have recently landed, are around looking at the sights when they encounter two natives in the costume of the country. Each thinks the other is queerly dressed.

Photo by Underwood & Underwood.
FASHION IS PREPARING FOR THE PALM BEACH SEASON
 This is a neat but attractive affair in white and old rose. The sweater is of silk, the skirt of white corduroy.

A MEMBER OF THE MURPHY FAMILY
 M. A. Ignotas, of 1008 South 32d street, was about to peel this potato when his hand was stayed by its human, wistful expression.

WHERE THE REAPER PASSED ON THE FIELDS OF CHAMPAGNE
 A French Red Cross worker, in exploring the battlefield after the fighting has swept to the north, finds this German cavalryman and his horse stretched stark upon the ground, victims of a random shell.

KITTEN HAS DOG FOR FOSTER MOTHER
 Mrs. Russell Keiner, of 2427 West Toronto street, owns "Nellie," who has nursed "Tommy," the cat, since he was two weeks old, and their affection promises to endure, too.